

BE A PEAKS CAMP SPONSOR!

PEAKS Camp is one of the longest-running and most successful programs of Texas Network of Youth Services (TNOYS). But due to recent budget shortfalls, its future has been put in jeopardy. By becoming a PEAKS Camp sponsor, you can help ensure that this popular and successful program continues to benefit hundreds of young people and youth services professionals each year.

What is PEAKS?

PEAKS Camp is a week-long opportunity over Spring Break for youth (ages 15-17) in foster care to get what is often their only chance for a traditional camp experience. Through a combination of camp activities such as canoeing, archery, and ropes courses combined with journaling and group processing activities, youth are able to build relationships, resilience skills, and feelings of self-worth that prepare them to successfully transition to adulthood. PEAKS Camp also has the added benefit of transforming the perspectives of the dozens of youth services professionals who volunteer as PEAKS staffers by giving them the experience of participating as equals alongside the youth participants.

"When youth come out of here, they feel empowered. Just because I'm in the foster system doesn't make me less of a person or doesn't mean my ideas or my thoughts mean less than anyone who isn't in the foster system. It empowers you to go out into the world and realize yourself."
