

Health and Safety at the TEHCY Program Summit

Last Updated [August 16, 2022]

After two years of hosting the summit virtually, we are thrilled for this year's hybrid experience and the chance to collaborate both virtually and in person at the 2022 TEHCY Program Summit!

The TEHCY Program Summit Team is dedicated to protecting the health and safety of our attendees. We are closely following the local health guidance based on the current COVID-19 threat level ahead of the summit and will update this document as necessary to reflect the latest information. See here for the latest COVID-19 tracking data for San Marcos, TX.

We will implement safety protocols to protect summit attendees and staff including following the local mask guidelines based on the current threat level, practicing distanced seating, ensuring the availability of masks and hand sanitizer, and recommending a no handshake policy. All summit attendees should prepare to follow these protocols and any guidelines put in place by the venue to ensure their full participation in the summit.

On-site summit attendees will also be required to submit a Health and Safety waiver at event check-in. Through the waiver attendees will attest that they have not been recently exposed to COVID-19, are not currently experiencing any symptoms, and will agree to follow the health and safety protocols put in place. In abundance of caution, we ask that any persons who have traveled to highly-impacted areas, been exposed to confirmed or suspected cases of COVID-19 or other emerging viral diseases, or have been diagnosed with COVID or other emerging viral diseases (and not cleared by a state or local health authority) within the 14 days immediately prior to the summit, do not attend in person. You may view a copy of the waiver that attendees will be expected to submit on the following page.

Any registrants who experience symptoms or contract COVID-19 ahead of the summit, are not cleared by a state or local health authority, and are not able to attend in person, may choose to attend virtually. In this event or if you have additional questions, please contact summit@tehcy.email.

We appreciate your help ensuring that all of us can safely gather to share, learn, and collaborate for the benefit of Texas' students and their families. Enjoy the summit!

Please contact us at summit@tehcy.email or 512-815-3299 for any questions.
