Can youth and young adults attend the conference? What are their registration options?

Yes! Not only do we welcome and encourage youth and young adults (ages 15-26) to attend, TNOYS also engages youth and young adults as planners, presenters, and performers throughout the event.

Youth registration is $50 per individual, which includes full access to the conference (June 10-12). Youth and young adults are not permitted to register for Pre-Conference Institutes.

The in-person conference offers exclusive sessions and activities for youth and young adults (YYAs), including:

- A youth-only lounge where YYA attendees can safely store their belongings, recharge between sessions, and participate in games and activities with their peers;
- A youth-only orientation and storytelling workshop on Wednesday, June 10, and a leadership track on Thursday, June 11 that features a variety of skill-building sessions designed for young people;
- An optional youth-only lunch on Wednesday, June 10.
- Dozens of sessions designed specifically for young people and professionals to learn alongside one another.

Please note: TNOYS is not responsible for supervising the youth and young adults (YYA) who register for this event. To ensure the safety of YYA in attendance, TNOYS requires at least one registered adult per ten youth/young adults. This chaperone is not required to accompany the YYA throughout the full conference, but they should assume responsibility for the actions and whereabouts of the YYA in their care.

What are Pre-Conference Institutes?

Pre-Conference Institutes are full-day (4-6 hours) training sessions on one in-depth clinical skill or evidence-based tool or approach. All Institutes take place Tuesday, June 9 at the Renaissance Hotel in Austin. Pre-Conference Institute participants typically walk away with a certification in a tool, practice, or skill, in addition to CEU credit hours.

For the 2026 Annual Conference, attendees may choose from one of two Pre-Conference Institutes:

- Motivational Interviewing Basics: Building Skills for Effective Change Conversations; Tuesday, June 10, 9:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.
